Quality products and services

The strength and reputation associated with Fidelity Investments are two of the many reasons we are pleased to be working with National Financial Services LLC.

As a privately held business, Fidelity doesn't have the distractions of a publicly held firm, so it can continue to focus on providing quality products and services that we can pass on to our customers. These products and services include:

- Extensive retirement and life stage planning products, which offer a wide array of funding options and services to help meet a range of planning needs in preparing for retirement and other major life events
- Access to a virtual supermarket of mutual fund and annuity providers

- Flexible money movement options to and from your brokerage account, including check, wire, and electronic funds transfers
- Online access to your brokerage account, quotes, market data, and bill payment features
- A comprehensive statement that gives you the convenience of having your investment activities in one place, helping you better manage your investments and plan for your financial future

- Responding to any questions or inquiries related to your account

As custodian of your brokerage account, National Financial Services LLC, at the direction of our broker-dealer, is responsible for:

How your assets are protected

Regulatory controls for your protection

As a registered broker-dealer, National Financial Services LLC is subject to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and other exchanges of which National Financial Services LLC is a member, and the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (MSRB). These regulatory organizations have certain rules and regulations that National Financial Services LLC must follow to safeguard your assets, including:

- Keeping accurate records of your assets held at National Financial Services LLC
- Maintaining net capital at required levels

In compliance with SEC rules, National Financial Services LLC has its financial information audited every year by an independent public accounting firm. Further, as a member of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) and of FINRA and registered with the SEC, National Financial Services LLC is subject to each of these organizations' regulatory oversight and examinations.

Further safeguards

National Financial Services LLC is required by the SEC to file monthly and quarterly financial and operational reports (FOCUS Reports) within 17 business days of the month's end.

- Statement of financial condition
- Income statement and statement of changes in stockholders' equity
- Regulatory schedules, including a computation of net capital, a reserve formula computation, and other key financial and operational data

National Financial Services LLC is also a registered broker-dealer, as well as a clearing firm. As a broker-dealer, National Financial Services LLC cannot use your fully paid securities for its business. These securities must be held for your exclusive benefit, and are subject to the instructions we provide to National Financial Services LLC.

National Financial Services LLC must account for and inspect every physical security owned by an investor at least once every calendar quarter. Any differences must be recorded and corrected within specific time frames. Net customer cash balances not required for customer transactions must be maintained in a cash account segregated for the exclusive benefit of customers.

Securities Investor Protection Corporation

Securities Investor Protection Corporation

Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) is a nonprofit organization that protects stocks, bonds, and other securities in case a brokerage firm goes bankrupt and assets are missing.

The SIPC will cover up to $500,000 in securities, including a $250,000 limit for cash held in a brokerage account.

All Fidelity brokerage accounts are covered by SIPC. This includes money market funds held in a brokerage account since they are considered securities. Learn more about SIPC coverage at www.sipc.org.

In addition to SIPC protection, Fidelity provides its brokerage customers with additional "excess of SIPC" coverage. The excess coverage would only be used when SIPC coverage is exhausted. Like SIPC, excess protection does not cover investment losses in customer accounts due to market fluctuation. It also does not cover other claims for losses incurred while broker-dealers remain in business. For example, fraud claims would not be covered if the brokerage firm was still in operation. Total aggregate excess of SIPC coverage available through Fidelity's excess of SIPC policy is $1 billion. Within Fidelity's excess of SIPC coverage, there is no per customer dollar limit on coverage of securities, but there is a per customer limit of $1.9 million on coverage of cash awaiting investment. This is the maximum excess of SIPC protection currently available in the brokerage industry.

Both SIPC and excess of SIPC coverage is limited to securities held in brokerage positions, including mutual funds if held in your brokerage account and securities held in book entry form.

Certain assets are not eligible for SIPC protection. Among the assets typically not eligible for SIPC protection are commodity futures contracts, precious metals, as well as investment contracts (such as limited partnerships), and fixed annuity contracts that are not registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933.

"Excess of SIPC" coverage

In addition to SIPC protection, Fidelity provides its brokerage customers with additional "excess of SIPC" coverage. The excess coverage would only be used when SIPC coverage is exhausted. Like SIPC, excess of SIPC protection does not cover investment losses in customer accounts, including losses due to market fluctuation. Total aggregate excess of SIPC coverage available through Fidelity's excess of SIPC policy is $1 billion. Within Fidelity's excess of SIPC coverage, there is no per customer dollar limit on coverage of securities, but there is a per customer limit of $1.9 million on coverage of cash awaiting investment. This is the maximum excess of SIPC protection currently available in the brokerage industry.

Both SIPC and excess of SIPC coverage is limited to securities held in brokerage positions, including mutual funds if held in your brokerage account and securities held in book entry form.
